ATTESTATION TO THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF GHANAIAN WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION OF GEORGIA (GWAG) TOWARDS IMPROVING THE MATERNAL HEALTH EXPERIENCE IN GHANA

This is to testify that the Ghanaian Women's Association of Georgia (GWAG), an Atlanta-based non-profit that is tax-exempt under section 501(c)(3) of the US Internal Revenue Code is also duly registered as an NGO in Ghana in furtherance of its mission.

Over the past seven (7) years GWAG has pursued a course of social intervention, under a program themed "Bettering the Maternity Experience One Ward at A Time" which aims at improving the maternal health experience in government hospitals in underserved communities in Ghana.

The Ministry has it on record that GWAG has supported the maternity units of hospitals including:

- Central Region
 - Elmina Urban Health Center, Ampenyi CHPS Compound, University of Cape Coast Hospital, Cape Coast Teaching Hospital
- Greater Accra
 - Danfa Health Center, Korlebu Teaching Hospital, 37 Military Hospital (Children's Ward), Rebecca Foundation.
- Volta
 - Ho Polyclinic, Adaklu Polyclinic, Ho West Polyclinic, Akosombo Government Hospital.
- Ashanti – Ejura Government Hospital, Nkaseim Healthcare Center.
- Eastern
 - Oda Government Hospital,
- Northern
 - Tamale Teaching Hospital, Yendi Government Hospital.

GWAG has distinguished itself by consistently identifying and supporting maternity wards on an annual basis and has enjoyed the collaborative support of the Ministry of Health of Ghana.

Moving forward in their 13th year of existence. GWAG is determined to reach out to more hospitals in Ghana to improve health outcomes. Accordingly, GWAG may be supported in pursuit of this endeavor as appropriate.

This attestation does not encumber the Ministry of Health or any of its Agencies with any financial and or Social Obligations.

Thank you.
